Blanc de Noir, now entering its fourth decade, puts subtle twists on ancient designs. For example, every item created includes a symbolic flower of prosperity, which relates to ancient times, when the embellishment was only made by royally-approved artisans. Blanc de Noir's artisans are aware of how important it is to preserve jewelry-making techniques in danger of being lost today. There are very few jewelers with the skill and training necessary to produce traditional Lao jewelry. Blanc de Noir takes enormous, and well-deserved, pride in the creation of each braided-silver necklace, gorgeously adorned bangle, and delicate pair of earrings they produce.
